Welcome back to Term 4

We have enjoyed a very productive start to Term 4 with students and staff reenergised after the holidays. With the commencement of a new term it is timely to provide the following reminders regarding student safety.

As the weather heats up and the UV radiation intensifies all students wishing to use the ovals and external courts are required to wear hats. We also make sunscreen available around the college.

The start of term is also a good time to remind our children and young people about the importance of travelling safely to and from school each day. Thankfully we have very few incidents involving Cabra students. Nevertheless, it is a topic that is worthy of regular reminders and discussion both at home and at school.

Dyslexia Empowerment Week

Dyslexia is a learning difficulty that primarily affects the skills involved in accurate and fluent wording, reading and spelling. Characteristic features of dyslexia are difficulties in phonological awareness, verbal memory and verbal processing speed. Difficulties with these are markers of a potential diagnosis of dyslexia.

Click on the link below to find out more, http://dyslexiaempowermentweek.com.au/

The good news for students is that we know more about learning difficulties like dyslexia than ever before and that means we have better resources to help students become successful learners in spite of the challenges. If you have any questions about dyslexia or learning needs in general do not hesitate to contact the Learning Support Centre here at the college.

Year 12 Farewell

As many of you would know, Week 2 signals the completion of formal lessons for our Year 12 students. After thirteen years of primary and secondary education, it is a significant moment in their lives and the lives of their families. With this in mind we took some time out from our usual routine this week to mark the passage of our graduates from one stage of their lives to the next.

For teachers these last few days of our students’ formal lessons are something akin to the experience of parents just before our children have their first holiday or sleepover without us. There are so many things that we want to remind them of – hints and tips that might come in useful. In most instances the last minute tips are things they have heard from us many times over; we just want to make sure they haven’t forgotten!

Saying farewell to the 170 young women and men who graduate this year one realises that there are far too many unknowns for us to be able to give them a checklist of do’s and don’ts that will work for every occasion or challenge that comes their way. The truth is they are ready to embark upon life beyond school and we just need to let go and let them ‘fly’.

Their commitment to scholarship and all of the other elements of student life at Cabra has set a great example for their peers and offers a challenge for those who come after them to continue building upon the traditions and successes of Cabra students over the past 128 years. We are especially grateful for their leadership this year including the introduction of Cabra Shout Out and the Big Screen on the Green.

We extend our very best wishes to the graduating class of 2015 and we look forward to celebrating their academic achievements with the release of SACE results just before Christmas. On behalf of the college community I also offer our thanks and best wishes to the families whose formal association with Cabra comes to an end with the graduation of their children in 2015.

Best wishes for Term 4

Italy Study Tour 2015

By Mrs Elena Guastella, Mrs Sandra Ciccarello and Mr Flavio Zandona

“Travel and change of place impart new vigour to the mind…” — Seneca

On Saturday 12th September, 32 Year 10 and Year 11 students who study Italian set off to Italy accompanied by their Italian teachers. After a long but exciting journey, the students were all warmly welcomed into the homes of the most amazing host families and for the following weeks, they experienced the values and traditions of Padua first hand.

The first two weeks of the tour was in and around Padua. It was a fortnight filled with amazing experiences such as attending school and being immersed in the culture and language of this incredible city. Padua is graced by the University and the original wooden podium from which the great Galileo Galilei once shared his expertise on a myriad of subjects, hence empowering the students of his day with knowledge and truth, which we as a group value the similarities to our Dominican tradition.

During our stay in Padua, not only were we lucky enough to tour this grand city and see Giotto’s most famous work of art, the Scrovegni Chapel and St. Anthony’s Basilica, but we were also formally welcomed by the Vice-President of the Council of Padua, who spoke about the importance of keeping this relationship between Adelaide and Padua alive. We made the local newspaper too! We also had the opportunity to visit the enchanting Verona where we saw the magical Arena and Juliet’s balcony and the multifaceted Milan, where we were hypnotised by Leonardo Da Vinci’s Last Supper. We also visited some of the most famous fashion houses in Italy such as Giorgio Armani and Prada! We were blessed to visit Milan world Expo 2015 which was a highlight of the tour and we saw the amazing pavilions of the multitude of countries present which were built in their own traditional architectural style and learnt a little about the theme “Nourish the Planet, Food for Life”.

The families and the host brothers and sisters were so very generous and kind-hearted. They made the whole experience so comfortable and lifetime friendships have been forged.

We also toured Venice, Florence, Siena, Orvieto and Rome. We learnt the history behind the traditional Carnevale masks and watched them being made by hand. We took a ride on a Venetian “vaporetto” and gondola through the winding canals, we marvelled at Michelangelo’s Statue of David, saw the church of St Catherine of Siena, took many cliché photos pretending to hold up the leaning tower of Pisa and explored the underground caves of Orvieto. Whilst visiting the medieval city of Orvieto, we stayed on an “Agriturismo” or farm stay in the Umbrian countryside. This was another highlight for the students as it was so picturesque and tranquil. It came at just the right time for the students as it was so picturesque countryside. This was another highlight for the students as it was so picturesque and tranquil. It came at just the right time

Then we arrived in Rome and we saw an amazing variety of art and architecture from the Colosseum and the Ancient Forum, the Vatican Museums and St Peter’s Basilica, to the Trevi Fountain and the Spanish Steps. Everything in Italy was so wonderful, ancient and modern at the same time. Together with their peers, the students had the most magical adventure imaginable, and after countless photos, copious amounts of good food, hours of exploring, and time spent squeezing every little souvenir into bursting suitcases, the bitter sweet moment where we had to prepare for the return home had arrived!

This chance of a lifetime has inspired us to think more beyond Adelaide and Australia and all the things we know. The Italy Study Tour 2015 has been a platform for connection and sharing experiences with people around the world. It has been a unique opportunity that has provided the students with delightful memories they all will cherish for many years to come. We were blessed to have escorted truly wonderful students during this very exciting time in their lives. Arrivederci Italia!

> “It was definitely a magical experience and a once in a life time opportunity. I could do it all again!” — Briana B
> “The Italian trip has been the most amazing experience of my life!” — Kate B
>
> “I’ve made some lifelong friendships. The bond that I have formed with my host family is unbelievable and I’m counting down the days until I will see Livia again…” — Bianca D
Library News

“A book is a dream that you hold in your hand.” — Neil Gaiman

Over the holidays we ran a competition for students and staff to take a ‘book selfie.’ The idea was to take a photo of yourself enjoying holidays with your favourite book. The challenge was simple; all it had to be was a photo of yourself taken as a selfie with a book. Easy! As usual we had a lot of fun and creative entries and it was hard to choose a winner. The winning students were Jordan R and Emily D and the staff winners were Mrs D and Domenico Alluigi.

We have a new resident Siamese fighting fish in the Senior Library. This attractive Crown Tail Betta won’t easily replace our previous beloved fish (in order of their demise, Pistachio, James Pond and Atticus Fish). However, it seems the Cabra community loves a fighter and we have a new contender, as yet unnamed. Entries are now open for our ‘Name the New Library Fish Competition’ and as usual super prizes are on offer for the top three suggestions. The tradition is to devise a suitable name for our fish that has some literary connection. Apart from the names above check out past short-listed names below: Scaleduggage Pleasant, F. Scott Fishgerald, Jaws, Salmon Rushdie, and Huckleberry Fin. Can you better this? Email Mr Bull sbull@cabra.catholic.edu.au your entry. Competition closes Friday Week 3, with the shortlisted names voted upon in Week 4. Let’s make this competition a FIGHT TO THE FIN-ISH!

Deputy Principal Middle School Update

Friendships are important to all of us but for a child in a Middle School environment, friendships are everything. During this period of their life some young adolescents appear to pull away from their parents, and instead seek the need to find acceptance of their peers. This is normal behaviour as frustrating it is for parents. Given this time in a child’s life sees many changes, both physically and cognitively, it’s also frustrating for the children going through this phase of their life.

I am not telling parents of Middle School age children anything they don’t already know but peer pressure tends to escalate during these years as children attempt to fit in. Unfortunately this pressure doesn’t necessarily go away as we get older; we just get better at managing it.

Students want to fit in and as a consequence they can make what adults may describe as ‘interesting’ choices. Friends they had at primary school may or may not be the friends they have during Middle School. Some friendships naturally drift apart due to different interests, other friendships may grow stronger and some new friendships form. Again this is a natural part of growing up.

No friendship is perfect. They will be times when friends say the wrong thing, let one another down and hurt someone’s feelings. A real friend after an altercation or relationship breakdown will recognise the issues, may apologise and give that person a sense of reassurance that helps build confidence and self-esteem. By making this effort friendships generally get repaired.

Unfortunately at times friends may continue to put someone else down and make them feel bad about themselves, give them ‘looks’ and have them second guessing everything that is said during conversations in person or on social media. This then becomes a conversation about who are your true friends. Is this how real friends treat each other? The simple answer is no but it is very difficult to have these conversations will young adolescents.

Cabra is not immune to dealing with friendships issues. We look to support a number of students most weeks of the year across all year levels within the Middle School. We are not in position to solve issues for all students but we are in a position to help try and educate and provide opportunities for students to develop a set of skills to help them when confronted by these issues.

The Kidsmatter website (link is at the bottom of the article) has some useful information on how friendships develop and change and some suggestions on what we can do as teachers and parents to help support and develop children’s friendship skills.

As always is the case, if your child is experiencing problems within friendship groups and it is causing concern for you as a family please don’t hesitate to contact your child’s home class teacher, the relevant Year Level Coordinator or myself to discuss the issues further. There is no ‘magic wand’ but together we can help assist in creating a safe and enjoyable experience for the students in our care.

Before I conclude, I would also like to wish our Year 12 students all the very best with their exams and future endeavours as they conclude their time with us at the end of the week. It is indeed a time of celebration and acknowledgment of all the hard work they and their parents have put in over the many years at the College.

Have a great fortnight.

Jason Thur, Deputy Principal – Middle School
Outside of the normal scheduled lessons, school teachers set aside additional time for each of their selected subjects. Our Senior School teachers have been closely tracking, monitoring and regularly reviewing all students’ academic progress and results. As a Senior School Team we have been keeping in constant communication with students, parents and caregivers in order to ensure that we are all working together in partnership to support the students as they navigate through the challenging terrain of their final year of their secondary education. As of this week the majority of the school assessed components of each of the Stage 2 subjects is nearing completion and the students are now starting to shift their focus towards preparing themselves for their final exams which will be held in the coming weeks.

I would like to take this opportunity to formally acknowledge and thank each of the Stage 2 teachers for all of the effort they have put into working with the Year 12 students this year and devoting many additional hours outside of the normal timetabled lessons to provide additional support to them. In particular, I would like to especially thank Ms Erin Mann who has been outstanding working with the students in her role as Year 12 Coordinator. Erin has been able to successfully and effectively balance the pastoral care needs of the students with their academic needs this year. Erin’s philosophical approach underpins what is a hallmark of Dominican Education; educating the whole person.

Year 12 Family Eucharist

Last night we celebrated the Year 12 Family Eucharist at St John the Baptist Church. This special Mass was the final time that the students will gather together to celebrate the Eucharist as the ‘Graduating Class of 2015’. The Mass was celebrated by Father John Shanahan. The theme of the Mass was ‘Journeying Together’, which was a beautiful theme for this final Mass that the students will share together as Senior School students. A number of the students commenced their journey at Cabra as Year 6 students in 2009, while the majority of the students commenced two years later in Year 8. One of the readings from the book of Proverbs which was read by Jack Briar touched on the importance of wisdom as you journey through life.

‘Listen, my sons and daughters, and be wise, and keep your heart on the right path’.

Our Dominican education invites students to pray, to be reflective, discerning and to be contemplative as they journey through life. As a community we also need to be mindful of the wisdom of the Dominican Sisters. We need to be respectful of this wisdom and hold it close to our hearts as we journey forward.
