In Roman mythology, Veritas, meaning truth, was the goddess of truth, a daughter of Saturn and the mother of Virtue. It was believed that she hid in the bottom of a holy well because she was so elusive. Given these origins of VERITAS it is little wonder why people often speak of education as a life-long quest.

As many of you would know, many of the great educational institutions of the world use VERITAS as their motto. While there would be many and varied reasons for their choices, I am sure most students would be familiar with the moment when despite weeks, months or even years of study, they realise that there is still so much more to learn; when truth and virtue seem elusive. Such moments can be dispiriting when we wonder if we will ever master a subject or skill. However, these feelings are often quickly followed by a sense of awe at how beautiful and complex the world and its people are. If you listen to people who are really good at something they often cannot help but speak with excitement and passion for their ‘thing’, such is the inspiration they receive from knowing there is so much more to learn.

One of my favourite Dominican interpretations of VERITAS is, ‘The quest to look at life with the eyes of God.’ But I have to admit that the older I get the more I realise that this quest is more difficult than it first appears; it can be full of challenges and uncomfortable moments together with the greater appreciation of the beauty that I encounter each day.

Orientation Days

We were delighted to welcome our newest students to Cabra during our Year 8 and Year 6 orientation days this week. While the purpose of the days is to provide a chance for our newest students to familiarise themselves with their new school it also provides many opportunities for existing students to lead this process and play their part in making others feel welcome. As you might imagine, they did a great job!

Finishing the year well

With only two weeks to go for students in the Middle Years our focus in classes is to make the best use of the remaining lessons. While there is still much for students to learn or clarify with the teachers during this time the larger lesson of working right through to the end of a project is invaluable for life beyond school. Studying assiduously to the end of the academic year also adds to our enjoyment of the holidays that follow.

Of course our final event for 2015 will be Cabra Celebrates on Monday 7th December. Judging by the planning that is underway it should be another terrific showcase of student achievement throughout the year. We look forward to your company on the evening.

Advent

With the ‘silly season’ of Christmas shopping well underway we welcome the beginning of Advent on Sunday 29th November which provides a period of time of deeper reflection in the weeks before Christmas. Once again we give thanks for the richness of the Church calendar that creates these invitations for reflection at important moments throughout the year. With this in mind I wish you every blessing for the last two weeks of our 2015 academic year.

Dear Parent and Caregivers,

The Cabra Celebrates Organising Committee would like to invite all Cabra Dominican College students and their families to celebrate with us at Cabra Celebrates to be held on Monday 7th December 2015 at the Adelaide Convention Centre, seated at 7.00pm for a 7.15pm start.

Cabra Celebrates is a very special celebration at the end of our school year. It recognises that part of the Dominican ethos is the pursuit of excellence and truth and we give public recognition to students and their achievements. The evening also showcases the achievements, contributions and talents of many students in all areas of Cabra. At the conclusion of the evening the Year 6 students present the traditional Farewell and Blessing symbolising the whole school’s prayers and best wishes for our graduating Year 12 students.

Tickets for the night are available via the mobile device Qkr! app or at the website qkr.mastercard.com/store/#/home at a cost of $10.00 for adults and all students and children are free.

Students receiving an award or who have a specified role during the evening will be required to wear summer uniform with the blazer. Cabra students who are members of the audience and not involved in the evening are not required to wear College uniform.

All awardees will be notified in due course in a separate letter.

Festival City Photographers will be taking photographs of students accepting their Awards and will also be available to take photos for families on the night. Images can be viewed and purchased on their secure website and the access code will be Cabra15.

Each year we have a ‘Giving Tree’ in the foyer. Families are encouraged to bring a non-perishable gift to place under the tree and these gifts will be donated through St Vincent de Paul to those families who are in need at Christmas.

We encourage all students and families to join us for this final night of the school year.

If you have any questions or if you would like further information please contact Helen Telford at Cabra Dominican College by phone on 8179 2453 or via email htelford@cabra.catholic.edu.au

Yours sincerely,

Ruth Evans

Music News

It has been a busy term for all our ensembles as they have all had the opportunity to perform in a concert. As our term heads towards completion, our attention focusses to our end of year events. This week we have welcomed new students to the school with the year 6 & 8 Orientation Days. These days are a wonderful opportunity for music students to share with the school community the diversity of music that is on offer at Cabra.

This weekend, selected drummers will be part of the Pacific Games Opening Ceremony at the Adelaide Showgrounds. Following this on Saturday 28 November, the combined Drum Corps will be decorating their drums for the Norwood Christmas Pageant. This is a fun event that all participants look forward to as they march along the Parade sharing their Christmas spirit. For the final two weeks, all ensemble rehearsals will focus on preparing for Cabra Celebrates. Please see below for ensembles involved in this event.

Deputy Principal Middle School Update

Across Thursday and Friday of this week, Cabra students and staff will be welcoming nearly 200 new students on our Orientation Days who will proudly wear the Cabra uniform from 2016. There is always a sense of nervousness and anxiety for those who are seeing Cabra for the first time and who are leaving the comfortable environment of their primary school. On the flip side there is also just a hint of excitement from a select few who can’t wait to transition to the College.

One thing I have learnt about the College community over the last 12 months is that our new students will be looked after incredibly well and made to feel like they belong. It will be another proud moment for me this week as current Year 6 and 7 students buddy up with new students from a variety of primary schools and show them that Cabra is inclusive of all. The Orientation days are a terrific advertisement for our College.

A big thank you in advance to our current Year 6 and Year 7 families who supported our Orientation Day by buying, creating and bringing in a delicious array of sweet and savoury options for our visiting students to enjoy for morning tea. It is always appreciated.

Now that Father Christmas is sitting in the Magic Cave, there is always the temptation for students to take their eyes off their own responsibilities and begin to mentally start winding down. Our job as Cabra staff over the next few weeks is to make sure students stay on task and finish the year well. Your support as parents to also encourage and remind your son or daughter to finish the year on a positive note is appreciated.

Enjoy the concluding stages of the year.

Kind regards
Jason Thur, Middle School Deputy Principal

SENIOR SCHOOL ART AND DESIGN EXHIBITION 2015

Year 12 student, Eleanor Gardner opened the exhibition eloquently by noting the open-ended nature of working in the areas of Art and Design saying there is “no ‘right’ answer” but many possibilities. This reflected her personal experience and also the diverse nature of the works produced for this exhibition. Highlighting that even within the boundaries of a brief, there are many variations. The students were challenged to take risks and back their ideas.

Cabra staff, students, parents and friends in attendance during the afternoon, joined in the critical last stage in the art and design process- to exhibit. The exhibition was a positive affirmation for students as not only their network but the broader school community, praised what they had achieved.

The exhibition was a great opportunity to draw people into the Fra Angelico Centre and celebrate the works that may have been verbally described or fleetingly seen in progress during the year. It was a chance for parents and home class teachers to witness another facet of their student’s school experience and for parents and friends to appreciate the effort, thinking and skills applied. The Stage 2 works especially reflect the independent expression of the students years of participation in these subject areas.

Thank you to the teaching staff, Andrew Patupas, Sue Wilson, Sally Mahony, Kate Lynn, Jessica Rossi and Paul Von Der Borch for their preparation of works and transformation of the centre; To our invaluable technical assistants Ian Johnson and Max McSorley for their professional framing of works and Ian’s set up on the day.

A gallery of student works can be viewed on the next two pages.

Ms Antonine Stagg

HOMESTAY 2015

Host a student from Hosei Junior High School

Expressions of interest are sought from families interested in hosting students from Hosei Junior High School from 2nd March to 9th March 2016. Twenty students will be attending Cabra as part of a larger group coming to Adelaide. There will be 10 boys and 10 girls, 13-14 years of age. Each hosting family must be able to host two students and provide full board for the duration of the stay. Families with children at Cabra are especially sought as the students must be accompanied to and from school each day.

However, consideration will also be given to families in the broader community.

A generous allowance is offered to cover expenses.
