Combining technology and customer care

We leverage technology to help enhance the payment process and customer interactions, and put our partner schools and families at the centre of everything we do. All of Edstart’s products have been designed specifically for education from the ground up based on feedback from schools and parents.

As well as payment plans for parents, we also provide a full fee management service to schools to help improve the fee collection and payment experience. Our Edstart Plus service combines technology, funding and customer care to manage the fee process and provide ultimate payment flexibility to families. This means schools only need to manage the invoicing and are able to focus their time on other value-add activities.

How Edstart is helping parents

When you work for yourself the flow of money is inconsistent at times, so to have someone just cradle that and manage that like Edstart does, it's a massive relief to be honest.

With Edstart, it feels like they're there first and foremost to make your life easier, and without a shadow of doubt that's exactly what they've done for me.

FAQs for schools

The following are common questions we hear from Registrars, Enrolment Officers and front-office staff.

What are the benefits of referring parents to Edstart?

The school has engaged Edstart to help improve affordability of school fees for parents by spreading out their payments.

Edstart is able to provide flexibility to families where their payments are set at a manageable level over the entire schooling period and beyond. This means families are able to better manage their budget and are less likely to fall behind on their school fee payments.

When can parents start applying for an Edstart account?

Parents are able to set up their account at any time before or during the school year. They can also submit an application before their child starts at the school.

How do parents check their balance?

Parents are able to check the status of their account via an online customer portal, as well as their monthly Edstart statement.

Who can use Edstart?

Anyone who is an Australian citizen or permanent resident, over 21 years of age with a good credit history, and has a regular source of income can apply for an Edstart payment plan.

What happens if a parent has existing overdue fees?

Families can apply for an Edstart Extend plan to include both their current and overdue fees. Edstart will work with the family to determine whether they can meet the additional repayments as part of the application process.

Can families make additional payments to Edstart?

Families have the flexibility to make extra payments to Edstart using their personalised BPay reference, which is provided via the online customer portal and each Edstart statement. There are no fees or charges for early repayment, and any extra payments will be applied to their Edstart account immediately, thereby reducing any interest costs that may apply.

How flexible are the payment plans?

Edstart is designed to be much more flexible than a traditional payment plan. Parents can modify or cancel their plan at any time, and there are no fees or charges for implementing these changes.

Who provides the Edstart funding?

Edstart uses its own funding to provide payment plans to customers. This ensures that parents are only dealing with one entity from start to finish and maximises the flexibility that we can offer.

How is Edstart different from getting a bank loan?

Edstart provides a longer-term solution where future fees can be drawn down and paid to the school only as and when they are due. A bank loan might help with just one year of school fees which means having to get a new loan each year, or initially borrowing much more funding than may otherwise be needed.

Edstart payment plans take into account all future school fee costs. Parents only pay for what they use, and have flexibility to make adjustments and cancel anytime with no penalty. Edstart also uses risk-based pricing, which means that quality customers are rewarded with lower interest rates as compared to traditional banks and other lenders.

We have recommended Edstart to parents at our school and we are very happy with how it has worked.

For families who want to pay over a longer period or who want to bundle additional costs such as extra-curricular charges or uniforms, we suggest they go to Edstart who support this. It has worked really well.
